Barnsley Council and Public Health England issue product recall from Barnsley dairy

This is a reminder that on Monday 25 November Barnsley Council and Public Health England issued a public recall of dairy products from a dairy in Barnsley.

This information has been taken from a statement from Julia Burrows, Director of Public Health in Barnsley and Dr Nachi Arunachalam, Consultant in Communicable Disease Control at Public Health England Yorkshire and the Humber:

“Barnsley Council and Public Health England are informing residents across South

Yorkshire of a recall of dairy products from Darwin's Dairy. "As a precautionary measure, we have advised Darwin's Dairy to recall all milk, (whole milk, skimmed and semi-skimmed) and cream products currently in circulation. This became necessary after a potential processing problem was identified with the pasteurisation process that could have affected some milk and cream products that could still be stored in people's fridges. "Their products can be identified by: A Darwin's logo somewhere on the container either 'Darwin's Dairy' or 'NP & DJ Darwin Ltd' Wording: 'produced at Whitefield Farm, Oxspring, Barnsley' • An oval mark bearing the following inside the oval 'UK YB006 EC'."The dairy is co-operating fully with our advice. If you have bought these products, do not eat or drink them but dispose of them." The council and the CCG has shared the full product recall on social media sites and anyone can see the information on the council's or CCG's website in the news section.
